

TWENTY-ONE DIE IN SCHOOL FIRE

Flames Destroy St. John's Parochial School at Peabody, Mass.

SEVERAL ARE INJURED

Panic Seizes Large Number as They Near Front Door—
Bodies Block the Exit

ORIGIN OF FIRE IS UNKNOWN

PEABODY, Mass., Oct. 28.—Twenty-one children, most of them girls ranging in age from seven to seventeen years, lost their lives today in a fire which destroyed St. John's Parochial school. Another girl received injuries which are regarded as probably fatal while others were less severely hurt.

Six hundred children had entered their class rooms for the morning session when the fire was discovered and, although a majority of them were guided to safety, panic seized a large number as they neared the front door and in their rush to escape they lost their footing and their bodies blocked the exit. It was in the front vestibule that nearly all the bodies were found.

The Identified Dead.
Mabel Beauchamp, 11 years.
Nellie Burns, 7.
Florence Bourke, 12.
Elizabeth Comeau, 10.
Helen Brennan, 17.
Aileen Bolek, 14.
Ida Essiembre, 6.
Mildred Fay, 13.
Heleen H. Kelle, 11.
Annie M. O'Brien, 11.
Patroni Chebator, 6 years.
Florence Doherty, 11 years.

All of the teachers who were sisters of the Order of Notre Dame, escaped, but Mother Superior Marie Carmelita was seriously burned. At the convent house tonight it was said her injuries probably were not fatal.

How the fire started may never be known. An early theory that a boiler explosion caused it having been dismissed, the state police officials tonight were of the opinion that a store room in the basement where a gas meter was located, was its source, but investigation of the theory was difficult as the place where the store room had been was entirely burned.

Tardy Pupil Smells Smoke.
The first word of the fire is believed to have come from a tardy pupil, who smelled smoke and reported it to the Mother Superior. The children had just finished morning prayer, when the gong sounded for fire drill. Mother Marie hurried to tell the sisters of the actual danger and the movements of the fire drill were started quickly. A few days ago in a practice drill the building was emptied within two minutes. It would have been cleared in almost the same time today, in the opinion of the Rev. Nicholas J. Murphy, pastor of St. John's Roman Catholic church, but for the falling of a child, believed to be a cripple, in the front vestibule. Over her body, child after child, pressed on by the crowd behind, stumbled and fell, blocking the exit.

Trouble at the rear door, which became jammed for a time, also impeded the movement of the children. This exit was re-opened however, and many children escaped in this manner.

Many Jump From Windows.
The classes fled through the corridors and started down the stairs in orderly procession, notwithstanding curling plumes of smoke, until the blockade occurred at the doors. Then, with cries from those below in their ears, the children in the rear of the lines scattered to the rooms on all three floors of the building. Those on the lower floor dropped safely to the ground. From the second floor most of the children jumped into the coats of firemen and bystanders which were held out to catch them. Many of those who went to the windows of the upper story were warned against risking the long jump and escaped from windows below. Some of the braver and more resourceful slid down window blinds, among them Morris Harris, a boy of 14 years, who assisted his friend, Tom Shea, with only one leg over a shaking spout. Two girls who were dropped to the ground sustained serious injuries, one, Marion Hayes, dying at a hospital tonight. Mother Superior Marie Carmelita said during the fire that she had made certain all the children left the upper floors before she did. No bodies were found above the first floor.

Met Every Requirement of Law.
Criticism by citizens of the lack of fire escapes on the school building were met by statements from state and town officials that every requirement of law had been met. Deputy Chief George C. Neal of the state police said that the loss of life apparently was not due to any lack of fire precautions but simply to the "unfortunate place in which the fire

MRS. TROUT OUTLINES ASSOCIATION POLICIES

DECLARES AGAINST ANY ALLIANCE WITH "WET" OR "DRY" FACTIONS

Mrs. Brown, Whose Election to State Presidency Is Conceded, States
Association Wants Constitutional Convention Which Would Authorize Elections Giving Women Full Suffrage.

Peoria, Ill., Oct. 28.—Outlining the policies of the Illinois equal suffrage association in convention here, President Grace Wilbur Trout tonight declared emphatically against any alliance with either "wet" or "dry" factions in this state; urged the necessity of the election of officers who would prosecute the efforts of the organization to obtain full suffrage for the women of Illinois; ridiculed the efforts recently instigated at Macomb, attacking the constitutionality of the present suffrage law; stated that the recent defeat of suffrage in New Jersey only strengthened the cause in that state and hoped for victory in the four states that vote upon the issue in November.

Senator John Bailey, who was on the program was unable to appear owing to injuries received in a disastrous automobile accident near Sreator recently in which the fiancée of his daughter was killed and the entire party more or less injured.

Late tonight Mrs. Harrison Monroe Brown, whose election to the state presidency on Saturday is conceded, gave out an interview in which she stated that the future policy of the suffragists of Illinois favored a constitutional convention which would authorize an election giving women full suffrage in this state. She reiterated her former statements that the "wet" and "dry" question would not enter into the problems to be considered by the state organization under her regime.

INTRODUCE TESTIMONY ON NEW HAVEN'S POLITICAL ACTIVITIES

New and Sensational Chapter Is Presented at Trial of Directors on Conspiracy Charge.

New York, Oct. 28.—Testimony on the political activities of the New York, New Haven & Hartford railroad in Connecticut and Rhode Island legislatures to prevent the construction of competitive trolley lines, introduced a new and sensational chapter today in the story of how the New Haven acquired its alleged monopolistic grip on the transportation traffic of New England as presented by the government at the trial of the eleven former directors of the road under the Sherman anti-trust law.

"I think when the time is fixed we ought to be ready to have music by the full band," wrote John M. Hall, vice-president of the New Haven to Henry C. Robinson of Hartford, Conn., in January, 1907, requesting him to use his efforts in the Connecticut legislature to prevent the repeal of a law which hindered trolley lines from building routes that paralleled the railroad lines.

CHICAGO, Oct. 28.—The steamship Eastland, which tipped over in the Chicago river July 24, with a loss of 812 lives, is to be used as a government naval training ship, it was announced.

Capt. Edward Evers of the Illinois naval reserves said Gov. Dunne had approved of the plan. If necessary, alterations were to be made in the hull to remove all danger, it was said.

The ship soon is to be sold at public auction under an order of the United States district court.

Indianapolis, Oct. 28.—The stay of execution granted by the Supreme Court to Tom Dorak, who is under sentence of death, expires tomorrow, and unless the appeal made by Dorak for a new trial is granted, the sentence will be carried out tomorrow.

It was thought tonight that the names of Elizabeth Nolan, 16, and Mary McCarty, 8, might be added to the identified dead but the identification was not positive.

Mary Mead, 16 years of age, who was injured by jumping died late tonight.

FUNSTON PREPARED TO GUARD BORDER

Additional Troops Are Enroute to Reinforce Patrol at Douglas

TO PREVENT CROSSING

Artillery Will Be Used If Necessary to Keep Villa Troops
Out of American Territory

POSTS CAVALRY AT NACO

WASHINGTON, Oct. 28.—Major General Funston reported to the war department today that with the arrival at Douglas, Ariz., tomorrow morning of additional troops now enroute he would be prepared to guard American territory against violation in the impending attack by Villa forces upon Agua Prieta, the Mexican town across the border. Two batteries of field guns, two regiments of infantry and a troop of cavalry make up the reinforcements for the border patrol at Douglas.

Instructions to General Funston are to prevent Villa soldiers from crossing into American territory for the purpose of attempting a flank movement on the defenses of Agua Prieta. Artillery will be used if necessary to repel such a movement. General Calles, commanding the Carranza garrison, has built a semicircle of trenches about the town fronting southward, preparing to make his fight with his back against the international border. Several thousand additional men sent to him by General Carranza will cross United States territory from Piedras Negras and Laredo by train and under guard of American troops. They will travel without arms, their weapons and sealed in baggage cars attached to the train until it recrosses the line at Agua Prieta. In making his arrangements for the impending battle, General Funston reported he had posted a troop of cavalry at Naco to guard the border on the western flank of Douglas, the rest of the forces ordered to the scene going to Douglas direct.

Unofficial advice reached here today to the effect that the Villa governor of Sonora, had telegraphed a protest to the Washington government against the American soil, since the recognition of the Carranza party as the de facto government of Mexico, however, the Villa forces are viewed only as outlaws against that government and such a complaint would be vain.

First Battalion Reached Douglas
Douglas, Ariz., Oct. 28.—The first battalion of the seventh United States infantry arrived here tonight from El Paso to reinforce the United States border patrol in the pending attack on Agua Prieta, opposite here, by Villa forces invading Sonora. One section of the twentieth infantry was expected to arrive during the night.

A shortage of passenger cars at El Paso necessitated the return of the railroad equipment to bring the remainder of the two regiments. Batteries C and D of the sixth field artillery were to reach here from Nogales. The arrival of these troops will make a total of 16 three rich field pieces and approximately 6,500 United States soldiers on guard in this vicinity. General F. Davis of the sixth infantry brigade will be in command of the United States soldiers until the arrival of Major General Funston, who will come here shortly, according to reports from military sources.

Three Wounded Mexicans Die.
Brownsville, Texas, Oct. 28.—Three Mexicans wounded in the fighting at Ojo de Agua near Mission, Texas, last week, died from their wounds at Reynosa, Mexico according to confidential war department advice received here today. This makes a total of six Mexicans killed in the engagement. The American dead totalled three. Six additional Mexicans wounded in the fight are said to be at Reynosa, which is not far from the scene of the fight.

The suit also charged that the senate did not act upon the same bill as the house and that final vote was taken on a legislative day.

VIVIANI RESIGNS AS FRENCH PREMIER

Briand Has Not Succeeded in Completing
New Cabinet

TEUTONS ADVANCE

Bulgarians Capture Two Towns
on Timok River Northeast of Nish—Take Heights

ATTACK FROM THREE SIDES

PARIS, Oct. 28.—The French cabinet of which Rene Viviani was head resigned today but up to a late hour tonight Aleriside Briand, who was called upon to form a new cabinet, had not succeeded in completing his task.

The subject of M. Viviani's retirement from the premiership and the re-organization of the cabinet was discussed at length by the political leaders but as no definite arrangement could be reached the chamber of deputies which was awaiting the appearance of the ministry in the house adjourned in the afternoon without any formal announcement having been made.

There had been rumors since the resignation of Theophile Delcasse, the foreign minister of important changes in the cabinet but the withdrawal of M. Viviani was in the nature of a surprise, as his ministry received a vote of confidence in the chamber recently by a very large majority.

Aleriside Briand who held the office of minister of justice in the late cabinet and who was premier in 1913 in a statement respecting the changes in the cabinet said he had received no official mandate as there was no ministerial crisis.

German Record Advance.
London, Oct. 28.—Outside of the German official statement, which records the advance of the Austro-German forces and the capture by the Bulgarians of Zajecar and Kniaevs, both on the Timok river northeast of Nish, and the heights of Piro, almost directly east of Nish, there is little or no authentic news of the invasion of Serbia.

There are reports, however, that the Serbians have recaptured Uskup, which is not improbable if, as Saloniki despatches report, the French now hold the line of Krivolak, Radovista and Strmitza. For, with an army there and the Serbians at Veloz Uskup would form a dangerous salient.

For the moment the danger spot for the Serbians is the northeast corner, where they are being attacked from three sides and must eventually fall back toward the southwest. Thus far they have been retiring in good order and, despite the seriousness of the situation, optimism prevails in Serbian quarters in London, which probably are best able to judge of the assistance being sent by France, Great Britain and Russia.

The French, according to German despatches, have already landed 150,000 men with one hundred guns at Saloniki.

Whereabouts of British Secret.
While the whereabouts of the British reinforcements remains a secret that they are of considerable size may be judged from the fact that, although General Sir Charles Monro, recently appointed to command the Gallipoli operations, is already on the spot, the government has decided to send Major General Sir Bryant Mahon, who commanded the columns which relieved Makenzie at the South African war to co-operate with the French.

Greater anxiety exists as to the attitude of Greece. It is known that Austria, Germany and Bulgaria have complained seriously of the continued hospitality shown the allies at Saloniki and one account goes so far as to say the Greek government has asked the allies to leave Greek territory. Against this is the quoted assurance given by the Greek minister at Paris to the French government that Greece has no intention of committing any hostile act toward the allied troops.

Except around Riga and Dyvsk where the Germans are renewing their efforts to reach the Dyvna river and near Czartorysk, on the Sty, there has been no heavy fighting in the Russian arena. Engagements on a small scale have taken place west of Riga, showing that the Germans are attacking in a new direction. Hitherto their main attacks have been from the south and southwest of that city where they were checked. On the Sty and in Galicia the German offensive, according to the Russian report has been stopped.

EVIDENCE IS CONTAINED IN FAY'S CONFESSION

GOVERNMENT DOES NOT BELIEVE
REAL STORY HAS BEEN UNEARTHED

Officials Assert None of Papers and Letters Taken from Fay's Room Throw Any Light as to Who Were Fay's Financial Backers.

New York, Oct. 28.—All the alleged evidence obtained by the government against the five men charged with conspiracy in plotting to disable ships laden with war munitions for the allies, by placing clock worked bombs on the rudders or propellers of the vessels, is contained in the confession of Robert Fay, who says he was a lieutenant in the German army, and in the explosive materials found in his possession.

This was announced today by William J. Flynn, chief of the secret service, and H. Snowden Marshall, United States district attorney. Both officials asserted that none of the papers and letters taken from Fay's room in Weehawken, N. J., threw any light as to who were Fay's financial backers, if he had any, or tended to show any connection between Fay's acts in the United States and officials in Europe.

Fay himself said in his confession that his plans to come to America and obstruct war munitions ships were approved by German secret service officials but according to Mr. Marshall, no evidence other than Fay's word has been obtained.

The government is far from convinced that the real story of the plot has been unearthed," said Mr. Marshall.

"We have not finished investigating. Yet we have no basis for any further arrests."

That Fay had completed three steel shells with springs and clock work mechanism ready for attachment to a vessel and had the explosives prepared to place into the shells was explained by police officials today in answer to questions whether the arrests of Fay and Walter L. Scholz, his brother-in-law, last Sunday, had not been made before sufficient evidence had been obtained against other persons. The police assert that had the arrests been delayed it would have given Fay an opportunity to carry out his threat of placing a bomb on a ship.

John C. Knox, assistant United States district attorney, was sent to Weehawken to examine the scene where Fay carried on his experiments. He visited Fay's rooms and the boat house on the Hudson river where explosives were stored.

The cases of the five men are to be presented to the federal grand jury next week. Dr. Herbert Klenzle charged with complicity in the conspiracy obtained his release on $25,000 bond today.

MAKE FIRST CALL FOR CREDIT FUNDS

Commissioners Request
Banks to Remit Fifteen
Per Cent of Proceeds

EXPECT $70,000,000

Money Will Be Placed at Disposal of British and French Fiscal Agents in America

FIRST STEP IN DISTRIBUTION

NEW YORK, Oct. 28.—The first call for funds available for the Anglo-French $500,000,000 credit loan was made today by Basil U. Blackett, secretary of the Anglo-French commission, and Octave Homberg, one of the French members, who remained in this country to adjust matters in connection with the loan. Lord Reading, chairman of the committee, and the two other British members sailed Oct. 16th, and have reached Great Britain.

Requests Fifteen Per Cent.
The call requests the banks throughout the country where the funds have been deposited to remit by Nov. 15th, fifteen per cent of the proceeds to the National City bank, the institution designated as the depository of the proceeds as called for. Letters to this effect went out today bearing the signatures of Messrs. Blackett and Homberg and others will go forward to other banks tomorrow and Saturday.

It is expected the call will place at the disposal of the British and French governments between $50,000,000 and $70,000,000, fifteen per cent of the amount paid in by Nov. 15th. This will be placed in the National City bank to the credit of the British and French government central joint account.

First Step in Distribution.
In no case will Messrs. Blackett and Homberg make their drafts payable to the exporters or suppliers. The funds will be placed by these two representatives of the governments concerned at the disposal of British and French fiscal agents in America wherever needed. The call, therefore, in the first step in the distribution of the $480,000,000 received by Great Britain and French for their bonds, among the varied interests of the United States sending supplies to these two nations.

When the loan was discussed it was made clear that banks subscribing to the bonds would be permitted to retain the funds they subscribed until they were needed, merely transferring on their books the amount of their subscriptions to the credit of the Anglo-French committee.

Follows Announced Policy.
It was also stated that when withdrawals were made, they would be pro-rated among these institutions. The call of today for fifteen per cent of the proceeds is in line with this policy. Subscribing banks will still have in their vaults the greater 85 per cent of the amounts they have subscribed to be withdrawn by subsequent calls.

About $300,000,000 of the $500,000,000 bond issue, it was authoritatively stated today has been withdrawn from public subscription by the banks and financial houses who are members of the underwriting syndicate. These will be retained by the banks as investments, according to present plans, leaving available for public purchase about $200,000,000 of the issue. It was said today that this was fast being taken.

ELECTIONS IN CHICAGO WILL COST $1,470,110.55 NEXT YEAR

CHICAGO, Oct. 28.—Elections in Chicago will cost $1,470,110.55 next year, according to the estimate of the election board submitted today. The expense this year was $724,910. The increase was attributed to the extension of suffrage to woman and to the primary laws. The number of precincts with women voting is 2,200 when formerly it was 1,566. There will be three primaries and three elections next year as compared with one primary and two elections last year.

SUIT FOR DISCHARGE

OF TRUSTEES.
A suit was filed in the office of the circuit clerk Thursday by L. O. Vaught, as attorney for A. M. Masters et al, against Arthur L. French and G. L. Merrill as trustees asking that they turn over certain moneys now held by them as trustees. The suit is an entirely friendly action and the petitioners state that the only manner in which the end can be attained is by suit in a court of equity.

By the will of the late S. D. Masters, the return from a trust fund of $50,000 was made payable to Mrs. Ella Masters; from a $10,000 fund to Rev. A. B. Moery and from a $5,000 fund to Mrs. Rena M. Shepherd and the petitioners state that because of satisfactory agreements made with all of the persons named that there is no further need for the trusteeship. It is asked that moneys in the hands of the trustees be turned over to A. M. Masters and Mrs. Mary Masters Newcomb.

Miss Gerlie Lyons of Ashland was a visitor in the city yesterday.

If, as some people think, a general tariff revision is undertaken by the next session of Congress, it will be the first time in political history that the same political party, in control of two successive congresses, has done such a thing. It will also be the first time that a political party has had to make confession of its failure as a tariff-maker.

The changes in the English and French cabinet are both said to be the result of dissatisfaction over the foreign policy of the allies with reference especially to Bulgaria. Factions in both countries seem to feel that if the right policy had been pursued that Bulgaria would have not joined forces with Germany. The dissatisfied citizens whose protests have brought the resignations are losing sight of the fact that a great additional damage to the cause of the allies can be done by failing to give support to their government leaders.
Expressions of a lack of confidence in their government leaders by Englishmen and Frenchmen will inspire Germany with hopefulness.

A New Worry for Employers.

The recent decision of the Wisconsin supreme court is of widespread interest not only because of a new interpretation of the workmen's compensation act, but also as calling attention to employers' liability for the health of employees.
The court declared that typhoid fever contracted through drinking water furnished by an employer and resulting in the death of an employee constituted an accident and thus came within the meaning of the workmen's compensation act. Incidentally this decision should give a great impetus to business of companies selling water which is guaranteed to be pure and free from disease germs. It will also have the effect of calling attention in a forceful way to the precautions which can be taken to prevent typhoid as well as other diseases.
And still a third effect will be to bring into prominence vaccination against typhoid.

The "Massachusetts Idea."

By the adoption of an enlightened platform the Republican party of Massachusetts took an advanced position on the firing line of politics that is certain to exert an influence upon the whole campaign of 1916 in New England. A victory this year will liberalize political thought in all the northern States, which must grapple next spring with the same problems that have confronted the Republican leaders in Massachusetts. The wisdom of the course that has been adopted here through the insistence of Mr. McCall and the progressive element of his party is already apparent in the enthusiastic reception that the people are according to the HUMILITY

Don't let your head swell up to greatly; don't let your stride be to blamed stately. For, though you rank with high class peaches, some other pebbles line the beaches. If into fame you think you're butting, be modest still, and do no strutting;
whatever line of work you follow, some other chaps
can beat you hollow. Perhaps you're writing fine romances, whose sale to figures huge advances; but when the pride within you quickens, remember Bulwer, Scott and Dickens; their fame will live till worlds grow hoary, and perished is your jimerow glory. Perhaps you're painting classical pictures, which have received more praise than strictures, and you bulge out your chest and chortle, and think you're surely an immortal.
But all your works are mere disasters, compared with chromes by the masters. Whatever graft you are pursuing, whatever fancy stunt you're doing, it is becoming to be molest, for when your fame is at its broadest, it still looks cheap to men surrounding, beside great names, down ages sounding. No human being should envelope himself with majesty, and swell up, as though he had a halo o'er him—for greater men have gone before him.

Republican candidates, and this lesson has not failed to make an impression beyond our own boundaries.
In Maine, where Republican nominations for office were never in such demand, the lead that Massachusetts has taken is likely to win the greater measure of popular support for those candidates who have the vision to see that if the Republican party is to gain its former position, locally and nationally, it must recognize the advance it has already been made, and who realize that the liberalized sentiment of the party cannot be ignored.

Before the next national convention is held the "Massachusetts idea" probably will have become as famous a catch phrase as was some years ago the "Iowa idea."—Boston Trans-

An Example in Giving.

For a week past "teams" of men from Grace church have been making a canvass of the members to shape up the church finances for the coming year. The whole plan is in accordance with good business and other churches have taken action in a similar way. For several years the census has been followed by State Street church.

In most instances the canvassers have met with cordial welcome and contributions in accord with the ability of the church members. In some instances this has not been true and no doubt the team members wish that they could inspire all upon whom they call with the spirit of a cripple, Wilhelm Persohn, who died recently and left practically all of his estate to the little church at Brillion, Wis., which he devoutly loved.

Persohn never was able to stand on his feet unaided and his parents, who brought him to this country from Germany when he was 13 years old, taught him to be a cobbler. He invested his meager savings in land which rapidly grew in value. All went to the church.

During his life he gave $65,000 to departments of the church. For his last few years he reserved the interest on $25,000 and after death recently it was found the principal had been left to the pension fund. For twenty-seven years he was preacher, organist and choir leader of the church at Brillion.

Mrs. Trout's Wise Stand.

One of the most important conventions of the year is now being held in Peoria, for three hundred delegates are attending the annual session of the Illinois Equal Suffrage association. The retiring president, Mrs. Grace Wilbur Trout devoted much of her able address to an insistence that equal suffrage must not be made secondary to the "wet" and "dry" issue and warned the delegates that there is danger in making the temperance question paramount.
This does not mean that Mrs. Trout is opposed to the temperance movement but she has sufficient vision to see that if the Equal Suffrage association makes liquor the leading issue that the progress of suffrage movement will be impeded. Mrs.
Trout said:

"It seems almost impossible for people to recognize that women are just ordinary beings, the same as men, and therefore have difference of opinion on various questions, and like men, have a right to express them."
"People mix equal suffrage—which is a fundamental principle of democracy—with every reform imaginable. They mix the suffrage with the Peace agitation, with the labor agitation, and every other agitation. But these other questions are simply on the surface; they deal with results—not with cause—Equal suffrage is basic and fundamental and stands back of the solution of all of those other questions."

Team Believed to Be Equal in Strength and Big Game Is Anticipated.

Although the big game today between Wesleyan-Illinois is commanding the attention of football fans, nevertheless the high school football squad is expecting a lively time Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock, in their contest with the East St. Louis eleven. Nothing is known of the southern visitors but judging from last year's team, the men will be beefy and lack science in the game.
Both of these factors, however, will be better judged after the game.
Coach Huber has been strengthening his men for the struggle and the eleven hope to turn the tide of affairs and begin their winning streak.
The J. H. S. squad had a good experience last Saturday with the Springfield high and it is not probable that they will meet such a fast aggregation the rest of the playing season.

Coach Huber has announced the following lineup:

Left tackle—Mihon.
Left guard—Robinson.
Center—Sorrells.
Right guard—Arter.
Right tackle—King.
Right end—Ferguson.
Quarterback—Priest.
Left halfback—Reynolds (Howard).
Right halfback—Reynolds (Homer).
Fullback—Herring.

"The Blindness of Virtue"

"In 'The Blindness of Virtue' produced by Essanay the moral lesson taught is powerful and one that should be productive of great good to parents and to boys and girls.

"The manner in which the story is told in these pictures carefully avoids all coarseness and there is nothing to offend good taste, or anyone of the most delicate susceptibilities."

Work of World-Wide Appeal!

Effie Pemberton is a young girl of seventeen. She has never been told of the fundamental principles of life and has been brought up in absolute innocence and ignorance of the sex problem.
She and Archie become fast friends.

Winstanley, a friend of Archie's, comes to the village to visit him. He is a shallow pated youth with no moral principles. He meets Mary Ann, a beautiful girl, the daughter of a washwoman in the village. She longs for pretty clothes and all the gaudies she has been denied, and being innocent of life as Effie, is persuaded by Winstanley to elope to London with him.

Archie follows them with the intention of saving her from his friend. In this he fails. He returns to the vicarage early in the morning. Effie, in her innocence, rushes to his room in her ki-mona, to tell him how glad she is to see him again. He tries to get her out of the room but she refuses to go.

The minister bursts into the room and accuses Archie of evil intentions. Archie, in honest indignation, tells the minister some wholesome truths about his leaving his daughter in such total ignorance, which opens his eyes. Mary Ann returns home, a wreck of her former self and tells the minister her story.

Pemberton and his wife then awake to the fact that girls are more likely to go wrong through innocence than in any other way. Effie is told the great truths of life. Finally Archie and Effie discover that they have been in love and receive the blessing of her parents.

ANNIVERSARY CELEBRATION

ORDER OF EASTERN STAR

Fine Gathering Elegantly Entertained With Program and Dinner.

October 15, 1896 Wilbur Chapter No. 358, Jacksonville, Ill. was organized and this year it was decided by the chapter to have the event duly celebrated. It was not practicable to have the affair on the exact date so the one nearest possible, last night, was selected.

The social committee in charge of the affair were Sisters Roland, McCarty and Munson. The principal officers of the chapter are Miss Bern Haight, Worthy Matron; R. J. Ferris, Worthy Patron, and Miss Jennie Rabjohn, secretary.

The first number of the occasion and one exceedingly popular was a six o'clock chicken dinner served in the banquet hall of the temple and to which 120 sat down to a genuine feast which was truly much enjoyed. Any amount of good things was served and all entered fully into that part of the program.

Adjournment was then taken to the main room and a short business session followed and then a regular program was carried out in the presence of a large and fine audience which was delighted with the bill offered.

The program was as follows:
Piano duet—Mr. and Mrs. Spillman.
Vocal solo—Miss Isabelle Rabjohn.
Reading—Miss Inez Griffin.
Violin solo, "Polish Dance" (Scherwenka)—Miss Anna Francis Bradley.
Vocal solo—Miss Joy Rabjohn.
Piano solo—Miss Dean Obermeyer.

That ended the formal part of the occasion and then all applied themselves to having a pleasant time socially and at a late hour adjournment to the respective homes was taken after a delightful evening had been enjoyed.

At a meeting held last night at the home of Rev. and Mrs. Percy W. Stephens an organization to be known as the Christian Young People's Federation was formed. The purpose of this federation is for occasional meetings to be held in which all the young people's societies of the various churches will participate. At a meeting held at the time Evangelist Milton S. Rees conducted services here the young people agreed to hold a sunrise prayer service each year. This promise has not been lived up to, but will be started this year at the meeting to be held Thanksgiving morning at 7 o'clock at the First Baptist church. The principal speaker at his meeting will be Miss Amy Stockton, a remarkable girl preacher of California, who will be the guest of Rev. and Mrs. Stephens. The program committee will consist of the president of the federation, together with the presidents of the various young people's societies. Light refreshments will be served at the meetings, provided for by the entertainment committee and the cost will be defrayed by the organization. At the Thanksgiving meeting a nominating committee will be appointed, which will decide where the next annual meeting will be held. The actions of the meeting last night will be submitted to the various young people's societies Sunday for ratification. The officers elected last night were:

President—Paul Morrison.
Secretary—Florence Spruit.
The head of the various societies present last night were: First Baptist church, Ernest Rutherford; Y. M. C. A. of Women's College, Miss Johanna Onken; Grace church, Paul Morrison; Westminster, Miss Florence Babb Spruit; Christian Church, Harry Walker; Y. M. C. A., Alva Snyder; State Street church, Miss Marie Seibert. Mr. and Mrs. Stephens were the organizers of the new federation, which gives promise of being a very important society of the various churches.

Mrs. Roberts, the president, called the meeting to order, reading the resignation of Mrs. Cormick, the former secretary, after which Mrs. Owen Graff was elected secretary. Following this the ladies were treated to a charming program, which was under the direction of Miss Smith and Miss Hopper, teachers in the school.

Play—"Mother Goose Up to Date."
Cast of characters:

Old woman who lives in a shoe—Mary Edith Baumgartner.

The program was followed by a talk by Miss White in which she welcomed all mothers and friends to the school.

Miss Lusk then spoke on the health of the school children as to how much better to keep the child home if not well than to run the risk of exposing a whole room to some disease.

The president then appointed some parents from each room as a visiting committee, to visit the mothers who do not attend the meetings in order to get them better acquainted.

A few more business matters were attended to after which the meeting adjourned and a social hour followed. Refreshments being served. So closed the most successful meeting ever held by the Washington School Parent-Teachers' association.

MRS. TROUT ADDRESSES SUFFRAGE CONVENTION

MAKES MANY PITHY COMMENTS ON MEN, WOMEN AND AFFAIRS.

Retiring President of State Association Touches Optimistically on Suffrage Defeat in New Jersey as Containing Items of Satisfaction.

Peoria, Ill., Oct. 28.—Mrs. Grace Wilbur Trout, retiring president of the Illinois Equal Suffrage Association, made many pithy comments on men, women and affairs in her address at the convention of the organization here tonight. She touched optimistically on suffrage defeat in New Jersey as containing items of satisfaction, and gave a suffrage twist to the engagement of President Wilson and Mrs. Galt when she said:

"While suffrage has long been a state issue, it is fast becoming a practical National issue. And while the nation's president has not yet recognized that the question of man and woman working together and voting to gether is a national issue, he has recognized it as a state issue,—and certainly as a White House issue."

Mrs. Trout discussed the important liquor question at length, and on many subjects was frequently epigrammatic. Excerpts from her address follows:

"A lopsided humanity where man alone assumes all of the political responsibilities cannot wait upright and maintain its equilibrium. The sorrow, heartache, and misery that confront us on every side demonstrate that any government is assuming a grave responsibility in separating a man politically from the two beings on the face of this earth who love him the most—his mother and his wife."

"Even though New Jersey women did not win in their campaign for liberty this month, they made a heroic struggle, and it was most encouraging and most significant to those who read the signs of the times to note the message brought in by the election returns from New Jersey. To the thoughtless that message might have been discouraging, but not to those who see beneath the surface. It meant that back of the suffragist of New Jersey stand thousands of voting men. With the forces of equal suffrage thus augmented and gaining strength every day it is only a question of time before conservative New Jersey will change its color on the suffrage map. We certainly hope that in New York, Pennsylvania, and Massachusetts, our other three campaign states, the men will go to the polls next week and manifest political wisdom by voting to add to their own strength the votes of their women."

"A certain class of rabid temperance people have insisted that suffragists should plunge into their fight. The anti-temperance element have been equally vindictive because women have not voted their way, still, the watchword of these people is 'personal liberty'—a personal liberty they are unwilling to grant to the women of Illinois."

"The Illinois Equal Suffrage Association, however, standing as it does for all the people, cannot change its policy because others are unreasonable or unfair, for that policy has been adopted, not to please either 'wets' or 'drys', but because it is right. The association cannot mix or confuse issues; it must stand first, last and forever, for that great principle for which it was founded, equal suffrage regardless of sex."

"It seems almost impossible for people to recognize that women are just ordinary beings, the same as men, and therefore have different opinion on various questions, and like men, have a right to express them."

"People mix equal suffrage—which is a fundamental principle of democracy—with every reform imaginable. They mix the suffrage with the Peace agitation, with the labor agitation, and every other agitation. But these other questions are simply on the surface; they deal with results—not with cause—Equal suffrage is basic and fundamental and stands back of the solution of all of those other questions. It seems practically impossible, however, in the minds of both wets and drys, to separate the question of equal suffrage from the temperance question. It is exceedingly appropriate, therefore, for us to face the temperance problem and all that it involves."

"There are unreasonable, selfish men among both 'wets' and 'drys', but there are thousands and thousands of sane men who could get together and solve this problem without the manifestation of the vindictive fury and hatred that is now manifested by these warring forces on every side. When I was down at Springfield I saw business delayed and needed legislation held up on account of the constant fights between these forces. It made one long to throw the whole bunch into Lake Michigan and make them all wet, and spread them out on the hot sand dunes of Indiana and make them dry just to demonstrate how much alike they are after all."

"In the settlement of this temperance question struck at the 'dry' pocket book there would be another tremendous outcry. Back of most of our struggles there is an economic reason. So let the 'wet interests' stop attacking the women on each and every occasion and let the 'dry interests' be unselfish and broad in their policies, and as a first step toward the practical solution of the temperance question let the 'wets' and

Some Topics of the Farm

William Young of Woodson precinct says that corn in his locality is not yet ready for delivery to the elevator. Mr. Young has cut and shocked most of the corn on his place but tried shucking out a few bays. A few more days of the present kind of weather however, will put the corn in condition for cribbing.

Cows Sold Well.

The cow sale advertised by Lee Meredith to be held at the C. M. Strawn barn in Alexander Thursday was largely attended. Twenty-four cows were offered for sale and included some fine Jerseys, Durhams and Holsteins, which Mr. Meredith had purchased in a dairy district. The bidding was spirited and the prices ranged from $40 to $95.50. The highest priced cow was purchased by Frank Taylor of New Berlin. The average price for the 24 head was $62.25. Charles M. Strawn was the auctioneer and Samuel J. Camm was the clerk.

Farmers' Will Organize.

Thomas Cain has returned from Heshler, Ohio, where he went to assist a number of farmers there in the organization of a grain company. This town is not very far distant from Toledo, and it is the intention to organize a company and proceed with the erection of an elevator. With the experience Mr. Cain has had in the Arnold elevator and in connection with the organization of a number of farmers' grain companies, he was in position to give the Ohio men the facts they desired.

C. W. Cully, who lives a mile and a half north of Arnold, has about eighty hogs on his place, fifty or more of them averaging 100 to 120 lbs. So he is intending to feed a larger portion of his corn crop, although he may sell some later on. Frequently he feeds 150 head at a time. Mr. Cully said yesterday that he had never in a single instance hauled his corn crop directly from the field to the elevator, as he had secured fairly satisfactory results by following the system of cribbing, using what he needed to feed hogs and selling the remainder later on. In all his livestock dealings he has never fed cattle as he has always felt safer about results. Recently Mr. Cully tried a new plan for getting rid of hog lice. He took a bucket of lard and coaloil mixed and then applied the combined liquid on most of the hogs, and they soon rubbed against the others until the whole drove had been treated. The warm weather gave a good chance for this treatment as the lard melted quickly when applied in combination with the oil. It has been found that to apply coaloil only results in burn and is too severe treatment. Lice get on hogs mainly through their ears and unless something is done to dislodge them, the annoyance to the animal interferes with the growth.

Walter Robertson of the northeast part of the county, is reckoned rightfully as one of the successful agriculturists of the vicinity. He says he continues to feed cattle with hogs after them and so far has had fairly good success. He is not an enthusiast on serum or hog vaccination but is inclined to think that if just the right kind of serum is used on a healthy hog it is pretty apt to make the animal immune. The serum must be good though and it is not a specific for a sick hog. At present his cattle are getting corn and grass which makes an excellent ration. In the matter of hogs Mr. Robertson thinks well of both Poland China and Durocs but he bought ten Tamworths at the Negus sale and thinks they will make a fine cross with the black or Poland China breed. The Tamworths are essentially a bacon hog and crossed with the black animals Mr. Robertson thinks they will make an excellent combination. His corn is good this year and the way he feeds, he has not yet tried a silo but thinks well of them and says there are a good many in his vicinity.

Miss Edna Griffith of Roodhouse made the city a visit yesterday.

Argue About Vaccination.

While there are a great many stock men in Morgan county who are fully persuaded that vaccination for hogs brings certain immunity from cholera, and is a plan to be followed by any man who proposes to remain permanently in the business there are still others who are not so certain about the benefits. The idea prevails among some well known Morgan county men who have tried vaccination that the greatest objection to the plan is that it tends to keep cholera all the time. They say that years ago cholera occurred in the county severely about once in five or six years, but with the advent of serum and vaccination that there is some cholera all the time.

The theory of the double system of vaccination is that a hog is given cholera and then the antidote or serum is injected and the case is cured. These men who doubt the value of vaccination considered in its broadest way argue that in neighborhoods where hogs are vaccinated, the fact that the animals are injected with a fluid which gives them cholera, tends to spread the disease to other farms where no cholera exists, and where perhaps the farmer does not wish to have his hogs vaccinated. Advocates of vaccination maintain that a hog which has the

"drys" unite—forget their differences and work together for full suffrage and give the women of the country a voice in the settlement of this vexed question."

C. L. Guile of Peoria was calling on city merchants yesterday.

cholera because of the injection given does not spread the disease, and that the application of the serum to cure the cholera at once puts the animal into such condition that it cannot give the cholera to others. In some instances veterinarians have advised farmers that there was no danger in placing hogs which have not been vaccinated along with those which had been vaccinated—that is, a few days after the operation.

There are many cases on record where vaccination has proven its efficacy, and some of the leading livestock authorities in the country are firm in their belief that its value has been proven beyond a doubt. It must be admitted that there are some problems with reference to serum and vaccination which remain to be settled. Furthermore, the greatest damage done to the vaccination theory has been the belief that the spread of the foot and mouth disease was directly attributable to infected serum. This fact has served to bring into question the purity of various serums offered on the market. But to sum up the evidence is favorable to vaccination as a preventive measure.

The Harding Sale.

The public sale held by A. J. Harding at his home place five miles south of Jacksonville attracted a large company Thursday. Mr. Harding recently sold his farm to James Bourn and possession will be given Nov. 1. The land is said to have changed hands at $150 an acre. It was purchased about six years ago from Wesley Smith and the transaction at that time was made at about $125. The farm is well improved and excellently located. J. S. Cox was the auctioneer at this sale and Homer Potter and J. E. Stice were clerks. The lunch was served by the Willing Workers of the Woodson Presbyterian church. Implements, livestock and grain all sold well and the results of the sale were quite satisfactory.

Some of the purchases made are recorded here to indicate the way all the offerings sold. Gang plow, F. Lewis, $25; harrow, F. The Champion Corn Grower of the World.

Raising 141 bushels of corn on an acre at an expense of only $13.73 for rent, seed, horses, labor, and husking helped make Willard Zeller, an Iowa farmer, the champion corn grower of the world, according to an article in the current issue of Farm and Fireside, the national farm paper published in Springfield, Ohio. And when much of that corn has longer ears, bigger kernels, and smaller cobs than any other corn, the record is complete.

This is how Mr. Zeller raises the champion corn: "Very early he came to understand that the one biggest thing in the corn business was good seed, and systematically began to develop it. A germination test was made of a large number of ears, and from among them 10 ears, all of which tested 100 per cent perfect and strong, were selected. Three hundred kernels from each of these 10 ears were planted, and the corn from each ear was planted in a separate row. All grades of quality were represented, the best ear yielding 118 bushels to the acre and the poorest yielding only 37 bushels."

"But they were not satisfied with one test. They were anxious to verify their experiments, and planted corn from the same mother ears under similar conditions the next year. The results were also similar. The ear which was best the first year was best this year also, and the poorest ear was again poorest with a yield of 35 bushels."

"The third year, under similar conditions, there was the same great difference in quality among these ten original ears from which the test was being made, the first was again first with 114 bushels, and the poorest was again poorest with 34 bushels."

"The soil is plowed to a depth of seven inches in the fall. Early in the spring it is harrowed to make a dust mulch. By the harrowing it seems that the small capacity-like openings in the ground are broken and the moisture that would otherwise escape remains in the soil. Just before planting, the ground is disked and then harrowed again. With the soil soft and fine and warm it is in condition for planting. No fixed date is followed, but the planting is usually done in the early part of May."

UNITED STATES LIBRARY IS ONE HUNDRED YEARS OLD

Library Established Fifteen Years Previously Destroyed by British—International Library Loans Is Planned.

Washington, Oct. 28.—It was just a hundred years ago this month that the Library of Congress in its present and efficient form was established. It had been established fifteen years previously, but was destroyed with the burning of the Capitol by the British in 1814. In October, 1815, was consummated the deal with Thomas Jefferson, by which the government secured as the nucleus of its new storehouse of knowledge his collection of 6,700 volumes, for which Uncle Sam paid $23,950. Jefferson himself prepared a catalogue of these books, and the foundation of the present efficient national library was laid.

The collection of books now in the Library is the largest in the Western Hemisphere and the third in the world. In June, 1914, it included 2,253,309 printed books and pamphlets, including the law library of 164,382 books at the Capitol. The total of maps and charts last year was 141,712, there were 563,474 pieces of music and 376,812 photographs, prints, engravings and lithographs. Special collections of value in their respective fields are also sheltered in the big library.

The progress of the library of Congress from the days of Jefferson to the present time has had one serious set-back. In 1851, when the collection of books totalled 50,000, a second serious fire, of accidental origin, wiped out all but 20,000 of them. At the close of the Civil War the volumes were 84,000 in number, and in fifty years the library has grown twenty five times its size in 1865.

Eventually the Library of Congress is destined to be the largest in the world. It is now exceeded in number of volumes only by the great library of France, the Bibliotheque Nationale, with 3,500,000 volumes and the British Museum with 2,500,000 volumes.

The great building which shelters this vast storehouse of information for the use of the American people and for posterity is one of the show-places of Washington. Its beauty attracts people from all parts of the world. It outshines the old Capitol which it faces as an architectural work. The frescoes and statuary are the product of the best skill of the times. The building is big and roomy, and everything is arranged with precision and constant care so that the treasures of the library may easily be found.

The building cost $6,932,000, and it was completed in 1897, eleven years after the cornerstone was laid. It covers three and a half acres. The shelves, if placed end to end, would extend from Philadelphia to New York, and ten miles beyond. The future growth of the collections have been provided for, and it is estimated the building will easily care for seven million volumes.

One of the interesting points about the care of the books is the method of stacking them. The book stacks and shelves are of iron. They are of a gridiron pattern, to help ventilation; for books, like human beings, need fresh air. The musty smells and collections of mould that one finds in other libraries is missing here, and the books are certain to live longer under the system of "sanitation."

The growth of the field of usefulness of the big national library is a matter of great importance in the development of America. Congress originally had the use of the library to itself. With reluctance the politicians admitted the public. Members protested many times against any such development of its utility. Only within recent years has this opposition to opening up the treasuries to the people been overcome. It is now a national institution, for the benefit and use of the people at large.

The library goes so far today as to make a business of lending its books to other libraries all over the country. The importance of this extension can not be overestimated. For comparatively few Americans can afford to go to the national library; and the growth of American education demands that scholars be able to turn to the library for help as naturally as farmers turn to the Department of Agriculture.

And the scope of the library will not end here. A system of international library loans is planned. Books are now being freely sent to the national libraries of other countries.

SIMPLE REMEDY FOR CATARRH

Just Breathe Hymel Four Times a Day and Be Relieved.

If a few years ago some one had said you could treat catarrh by breathing air charged with a healing balsam, the idea would have been ridiculous and it remained for that eminent investigator, R. T. Booth, to discover in Hymel this wonderful method of treatment.

Hymel has performed almost miraculous results in treating catarrh and is today recognized by thousands of people as the only advertised remedy for catarrh that can be relied upon to do just what it claims. The complete outfit of Hymel is inexpensive and consists of an inhaler, a medicine dropper and a bottle of Hymel.

Breathe the air of Hymel through the little inhaler druggerd furnish with it for a few minutes four times a day and it will help the worst case of catarrh. It soothes and heals the mucous membrane of the air passages, prevents irritation, and effects complete and lasting relief. In Jacksonville there are scores of well known people who have been relieved of catarrh by Hymel. If it does not help you Coover & Shreve will return the money you paid for Hymel. This is the strongest evidence that can be offered as to their faith in this remedy.—Adv.

BURR NOW GETS BREATH EASIER

Springfield Man Suffered Much From Bad Case of Catarrh.

TANLAC RELIEVED HIM.

After suffering for years from a malady and finding no relief from various treatments, some persons apparently resign themselves to their fate and make no further efforts to find their way back to health. Frederick Burr, who is employed at 148 North Glenwood, Springfield, Ill., had almost reached that state when his friends persuaded him to try Tanlac, the "Master Medicine" now being introduced in this city. Mr. Burr in discussing the benefits he had derived from the use of Tanlac, said:

"Before I began taking Tanlac, I had suffered intensely with catarrh for a number of years. It was difficult for me to breathe when I was asleep and when I would get up in the morning my nose would be all closed up. I tried several remedies but nothing seemed to do me any permanent good. I became nervous, rundown because of the little rest which I was getting and had about given up hope of obtaining relief. I heard about Tanlac and the good it was doing so decided to try a bottle.

"I am glad to say my catarrh is nearly gone. My nose does not close up like it used to, and I can breathe much easier. I get a good rest every night which makes me feel like a new man. I've told a great many of my friends how much good Tanlac did me but I want them all to know about it, and I am glad to say this publicly because they may benefit as much as I have if they are in bad health."

Tanlac, the "Master Medicine" is now being sold in Jacksonville at the drug store of Coover & Shreve.

FRAIL, SICKLY CHILD

Father Tells How Boy was Restored to Health and Strength.

We have always told the people of Jacksonville that Vinol is a wonderful body builder for ailing children. Here is more proof of the fact—

J. L. Albury of Miami, Fla., says: "Our little boy was puny and cross from the time he was born, and we hardly knew how to handle him. When he was three years old he was weak and so cross we could hardly live with him, and we could not get him to eat anything. A friend asked us to try Vinol. We did so and you should see the change it has made in him. He is now a good-natured, healthy youngster, ready to eat at any time, and we cannot praise Vinol enough."

Vinol is especially efficient in building up puny, weak, ailing children, because of the real cod liver extractives, peptonate of iron and beef peptone which it contains, and as it is without oil or grease children love to take it. Lee P. Alcott, Druggist, Jacksonville, Ill.—Adv.

GILBERT AS A WIZARD.

Curious Tricks of an Old Time Investigator of Electricity.

H. G. Wells has called attention in "The World Set Free" to a half forgotten world who, in "the spacious times of great Elizabeth," loomed large indeed. Science, to be sure, does not forget him, and one great English poet, Dryden, has proclaimed with resonant emphasis:

Gilbert shall live until loadstones cease to draw.

Nevertheless how many young students of electricity today ever heard of William Gilbert?

"It was Gilbert, Queen Elizabeth's court physician, who first puzzled his brains with rubbed amber and bits of glass and silk and shielac," says Mr. Wells, "and so began the quickening of the human mind to the existence of this universal presence. And even then the science of electricity remained a mere little group of curious facts for 200 years, connected perhaps with magnetism—a mere guess that—perhaps with the lightning. * * * Except for the lightning conductor, it was 250 years before electricity stepped out of the cabinet of scientific curiosities into the life of the common man."

Gilbert's theories and guesses about magnetism he concluded that the world is a vast spherical magnet—were serious and far-reaching, and he embodied them in a book with a ponderous Latin title—the first great book on physics published in England. But his experiments were chiefly of the curio and plaything sort. An English collection of Elizabethan letters and anecdotes of court life quotes the opinion of a provincial young lady of quality, but recently come up to London to accept a position in the queen's household, who had witnessed some of them. She wrote home to her mother:

"The queen is now well recovered of her sickness, which was but little, tho it lookt at first as it would be greater. She puts much trust in her Doctor, one Gilbert, and see doe her lads for the moste parte, and I am laught at by all but only Lady Margaret for that I doe fear the man and his cures that they be not such as are permitted to Xtian (Christian) folke to undergoe. I have seen him playe strange tricks, talking for the diversion of the queen's lads, a silke glove from one and her bedes of ambre from another and a scrapple of the writing of her Love from another. If she have it about her and can be perswaded to give it uppe, and makinge the one to russe and give forth speckles of fyre, and the others one to pick the other uppe by touching of it—and a blacke catte cominge in he rubed her that she bristled and gave forth the little fyres that daunced alonge her furre in the dark as if the wyches that love blacke catteres were stroking her back. Soche matters are of the divel and shoide not be medled with for sporte, if they are not meet for good Xtians."

Poor, timid little lady! If she deemed Dr. Gilbert's tricks and cures of 300 years ago so perilous to the soul what would she have thought of the electric shocks, baths, massage and all the varied tingling, prickling, crackling and spark spitting electrical devices of our modern physicians?

Before the Toothbrush.

Before the invention of toothbrushes people used to clean their teeth with linen. This is evident from William Vaughan's "Fifteen Directions to Preserve Health," published 1602, in which the author tells those who want to keep the teeth "white and uncorrupt" that they must wash the mouth after every meal, "sleepe with the mouth somewhat open * * * and in the morning take a linen-cloth and rub the teeth well within and without." In Vaughan's time several varieties of tooth powder were known, the recipe for one of the simplest being as follows: "Burne a piece of Corke till it looks like a Coale, then take it out of the fyre and it will fall to ashes, wherewith rub your teeth."—London Chronicle.

Fresh Figs.

The first known tree referred to in the Bible is the fig tree. We are apt to think of figs as very sweet dried fruit, brown in color, packed into long wooden boxes. When newly gathered figs are rather like pears in shape and of a green or purple color. Eaten in this state, the people of the east consider them the most delicious of fruit, but the figs are also dried, and in that form are included in almost every meal.

The Modern Way.

Mrs. Henry Peck—Men have degenerated sadly since the days of chivalry. Sir Walter Raleigh spread his cloak on the ground for the queen to walk on. Women do not walk on men's cloaks in these modern days. Mr. Henry Peck—No; they walk on men's necks now.—Puck.

Open to Conviction.

"I understand," said Mr. Dolan, "that you declared there should be no more fightin'."

"I said that," replied Mr. Rafferty. "But I never was obstinate, an' mebbe a few words of argument from you can make me change my mind."—Washington Star.

A Dilemma.

Wife—Henry, you really must have the landlord come and see for himself the awful damage the rain did to our ceiling. Hub—I can't without letting him see the damage the children have done to the rest of the house.—Boston Transcript.

We are all born for love. It is the principle of existence and its only end.—Disraeli.

A PROSPEROUS SCHOOL CALLED THE NARROWS

Many Pleasant Things Connected With the Place as Seen by a Journal Reporter.

A good many years ago there was some land laid off in the Asbury neighborhood for a specific purpose and by some means a part of it was a narrow strip. The writer is not fully aware of the exact circumstances but as he remembers the matter the land in question was for school purposes and somewhat south of the location of the schoolhouse in that vicinity at present.

At any rate the schoolhouse right near the old Diamond Grove Baptist church some five miles southeast of the city is called "The Narrows," and it was there that the writer bent his steps, or the steps of his horse, for a visit Thursday morning. The day was beautiful and pupils mostly in their places and they were an interesting gathering of young people. They were throughout respectful and courteous and acted in a manner which showed good breed and good training on the part of their faithful teacher, Miss Pearl Hughes.

First of all the writer wants to mention the playground connected with the school. It is certainly one of the best in the county and in fine condition. It is very large and roomy with trees in their proper places. The children need plenty of sunshine and they have it on the grounds and at the same time there are a good many trees on the borders of the ground that add much to the beauty and attractiveness of the place. The coal shed is in the rear and there is nothing to mar the beauty of the place. The children had most of the leaves raked up and probably completed the undertaking that day. The school building is of ample size and has a vestibule through which the children enter the room. The outside doors would bear some repairs but generally things are in good shape. The heating is of the improved ventilating style and works well. There is a piano which has seen better days things are in good shape. The furnishings of the place are very good; maps, plenty of pictures of great men which is much to be commended, and other items. There is no cloak room but hooks about the main room supply the need.

The directors are Messrs Carl York, E. R. Hembrough and R. Y. Gibson.

A CHILD'S TONGUE SHOWS IF LIVER OR BOWELS ARE ACTIVE

If Cross, Feverish, Sick, Bilious, Give Fruit Laxative at Once.

Every mother realizes, after giving her children "California Syrup of Figs," that this is their ideal laxative, because they love its pleasant taste and it thoroughly cleanses the tender little stomach, liver and bowels without griping.

When cross, irritable, feverish or breath is bad, stomach sour, look at the tongue, Mother! If coated, give a teaspoonful of this harmless "fruit laxative," and in a few hours all the foul, constipated waste, sour bile and undigested food passes out of the bowels, and you have a well, playful child again. When this little system is full of cold, throat sore, has stomach ache, diarrhoea, indigestion, colic—remember, a good "inside cleansing" should always be the first treatment given.

Millions of mothers keep "California Syrup of Figs" handy; they know a teaspoonful today saves a sick child tomorrow. Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which has directions for babies, children of all ages and grown ups printed on the bottle. Beware of counterfeiters sold here, so don't be fooled. Get the genuine, made by "California Fig Syrup Company."—Adv.

Please, for your sake, get a large fifty-cent case of Pape's Diapiesin from any drug store and put your stomach right. Don't keep on being miserable—life is too short—you are not here long, so make your stay agreeable. Eat what you like and digest it; enjoy it, without dread of rebellion in the stomach.

Pape's Diapiesin belongs in your home anyway. Should one of the family eat something which don't agree with them, or in case of an attack of indigestion, dyspepsia, gastritis or stomach derangement at daytime or during the night, it is handy to give the quickest, surest relief known.—Adv.

AN OUTING SUIT.

Practical and Smart This Costume For Cool Days.

IDEAL FOR TRAMPING.

Shepherd's plaid, black or blue and white, features this jaunty suit. The circular skirt is finished around the bottom with a straight strip, which keeps its shape well. Please notice the good looking belt—one style front and a novelty at the back. Cloth top boots and a sailor hat go well with this design.

SEWING AS AN ART.

The Pendulum Swings Back, and Girls Are Taught to Sew.

Every woman should know how to sew. There is a mistaken notion in masculine minds that every woman does know how to sew. But this is by no means a general ruling. There are quite a number of the fair sex who have no skill whatever with needle and thread and are quite unable to mend, much less to make, their own attire.

When the first movements were made toward the higher education of women, the movements which originated the important women's colleges and educational centers of today, the effort to improve feminine education and raise it above the mediocre instruction of early days went to the other extreme, and Greek and Latin and mathematics completely usurped the place of the domestic arts.

Dressmaking and housecraft in all its branches had no place in the curriculum of the modern college girl, and the young lady who came back from her finishing school might be very learned in literature and the sciences, but was very little use when it came to sewing and dusting and the many duties of ordinary home life.

Now the pendulum is swinging back again, and one is glad to see that even the most advanced of girls' schools include housewifery and other useful accomplishments in their list of subjects. It is perfectly easy to be studious and thoroughly well educated, to have a good working knowledge of the arts and sciences, to know languages and history, and yet be able to handle a needle and cook a dinner.

So many quite young girls are inclined to think this is impossible. They feel that floury hands and an intimate acquaintance with a dustpan and brush are things to be avoided. A time comes now and again in the life of nearly every woman which demands the performance of these simple duties, and the girl who is totally unprepared for such emergencies may find herself in a sorry plight indeed.

There is infinite wisdom in teaching girls in their teens to make their own clothes, to cook and to clean and make up a room, and there are fortunately many mothers who instruct their daughters themselves in these matters. A girl will not be wearied with needlework if her handiwork produces a new and dainty gown for her own adornment, and cutting out, tacking and stitching are double in interest when the completed garment will be something to be proud of.

Clothes Tree For the Children.

Much work and confusion may be avoided when the children undress at night if each one is made the proud possessor of a small hat tree or clothes tree, or costume, as it is called. These come in white enamel, mahogany or any other finish of wood, stand four and one-half feet high and have eight branches, a branch for each article of wearing apparel. Clothes will be well aired, the room kept in neatness and order and everything ready in place in the morning. The children love them, and it is a good way to teach them orderliness and hygiene. They are inexpensive. Surprise them some morning with one.

SHAVED BY SWISS ON BORDER

Austrian Soldiers Operated on Through Barbed Wire Fences.

Innsbruck, Austrian Tirol. — The Swiss-Austrian frontier is carefully marked off and closed by barbed wire fences, but that does not prevent fairly free intercourse between the Swiss and the Austrian soldiers.

Soldiers of both countries are grouped along the Engadine border and in the Swiss ranks is a barber, the only one of his profession on either side. A recent visitor to this front who desired to have a shave found it was obtainable by the simple expedient of sitting in a chair on the Austrian side and allowing the Swiss soldier to extend his arms through the wire meshes.

The shave was not the equal of one in a regular barber shop, a bit ragged and rough in spots, but it was better than none and was accomplished without any breach of neutrality. Austrian officers, it is asserted, resort almost daily to the odd expedient.

STOLE HIDE FROM COW.

Thief Took Advantage of Auto's Collision With the Animal.

Bagnob, Wis.—Recently a cow belonging to Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Cohn was struck by an automobile owned by Edward Kowalko of North Freedom. The cow was tethered in the road for a pasture, and the driver of the car claims he tried to avert an accident, but could not.

The leg of the cow was broken, and the animal had to be killed. Action was begun in Justice Adolph Andros' court on the ground the machine was being driven too fast, and later a change of venue was taken to Justice H. L. Halsted's court, where the case was dismissed, as the car was not going twenty-five miles an hour. Besides, cows should not pasture in the highway.

The hide was removed from the animal, and later the sheriff was notified that this had been stolen. The thief has not been apprehended.

TO SAFEGUARD

$5,000,000,000

Destruction of Records by Big Chicago Fire Recalled.

New York.—If fire should destroy the hall of records of the city would lose its files of deeds and mortgages, upon which rest the title of Manhattan's $5,000,000,000 of realty.

Register Hopper recommended in presenting his budget estimates for 1916 to the board of estimate that the duplicate abstract records which he has completed be housed in a fireproof building away from the city. The original plant would be retained in the office for title searching purposes. This method of duplicate plants in separate localities is followed by the large title and insurance companies, but the city has neglected to protect its records.

On record in the register's office are 1,039,915 deeds and over 1,000,000 mortgages. The books or libers number over 8,000.

The destruction by fire of the Equitable building and of the contents of a part of the capitol at Albany proved that merely depositing records in a fireproof building does not safeguard against partial or total destruction by fire. The great fire in Chicago destroyed the original records, but the damage was mitigated to a degree by the fact that abstracts made by a private company were saved. It placed owners largely at the mercy of the title company, which took huge profits from selling the abstract information. Fire and earthquake at San Francisco and fire at Jacksonville, Fla., illustrated further the great loss resulting from a destruction of title records.

"The establishment of the Torrens system," says the register, "in the way it has been successfully and universally applied in Australia and many other countries, would do away completely with the need of preserving old records except for their historical interest."

TO HONOR DANIEL BOONE.

D. A. R. Will Unveil Boulder Next Month.

Montgomery City, Mo.—After nearly 100 years a monument is to be erected over the burial place of Daniel Boone, near Marthasville, Warren county, through the efforts of the Daughters of the American Revolution. It is to be made of a large red granite boulder found in Warren county, which Boone selected as his last resting place.

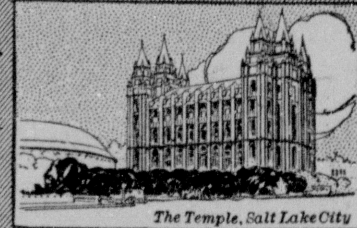

It is planned to dedicate the marker Oct. 29 at the close of a conference of the Missouri Daughters which is to be held in St. Louis.

Student a Hero.

Franklin, Ind.—Oscar Bogard of Lyons, who is attending the summer course at Franklin college, has become a hero in the opinion of his friends in rescuing a horse from death under a train. The horse broke loose from a hitchrack in front of the college campus and ran along the railroad tracks. The buggy was demolished and the horse became entangled in the harness and fell on the tracks. A train was approaching at full speed when Bogard with almost superhuman strength dragged the horse from the tracks only a second before the engine whizzed by.

IN STERLING LIVES A GIRL

Who Suffered As Many Girls Do—Tells How She Found Relief.

Sterling, Conn.—"I am a girl of 22 years and I used to faint away every month and was very weak. I was also bothered a lot with female weakness. I read your little book 'Wisdom for Women,' and I saw how others had been helped by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and decided to try it, and it has made me feel like a new girl and I am now relieved of all these troubles. I hope all young girls will get relief as I have. I never felt better in my life."—Mrs. JOHN TETREAU, Box 116, Sterling, Conn.

Massena, N. Y.—"I have taken Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I highly recommend it. If anyone wants to write to me I will gladly tell her about my case. I was certainly in a bad condition as my blood was all turning to water. I had pimples on my face and a bad color, and for five years I had been troubled with suppression. The doctors called it 'Anemia and Exhaustion,' and said I was all run down, but Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound brought me out all right."—Miss LAVISA MYRES, Box 74, Massena, N. Y.

Young Girls, Heed This Advice.

Girls who are troubled with painful or irregular periods, headache, backache, dragging-down sensations, fainting spells or indigestion, should immediately seek restoration to health by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

FUNERAL SERVICES HELD FOR LATE ROBERT E. PELHAM

Large Number of Friends Pay Last Tribute to Rest of Departed—Sermon by the Rev. M. L. Pontius.

Funeral services for the late Robert Eugene Pelham were held from the undertaking parlors of W. W. Gilliam Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock. There was a large number of friends and relatives gathered to pay a last tribute to the memory of Mr. Pelham. The members of Illini Lodge No. 4, I. O. O. F., attended in a body and had charge of the services at the grave. The sermon was given by the Rev. Myron L. Pontius, pastor of Central Christian church, who paid a high tribute to the deceased. A few of Mr. Pontius' thoughts are given.

"Upon occasions of this kind it is our duty to become ministers of peace and comfort to those who mourn. One of the unique demands of Christianity is that we bear one another's burdens. And while we serve in this way we may be conscious of the fact that God is not afar off. He is near unto each one of us."

"Mr. Pelham was a member of the Independent Order of Odd Fellows. Members of that order are here this afternoon to pay a tribute founded upon the three-fold principle of modern civilization. The first cardinal principle of this order is friendship. Without friendship civilization would return to the chaos from which it has come and human life would be little more than existence. The best friend the human race has ever had once said, 'Henceforth I call you not servants but friends. Again he said, 'Greater love hath no man than this, that a man lay down his life for his friends.'"

"The second cardinal principle of the order is love. That love which binds humanity together in families, communities and nations. That love which makes us feel that we are our brother's keeper; that we have common interests, faults, hopes and virtues."

"The third principle of the order is truth. And we remember that the man who brought comfort and hope into the world said, 'I am the truth. You shall know the truth and the truth shall make you free.' We have here this afternoon representatives of another organization which we call the church. These have come with their Christian sympathy and their message of comfort and hope. When the feet of the weary pilgrim touch the waters of death's Jordan the fraternal organization must say, 'Farewell. But it is then the function of the church to declare that the spirit of the Christ will conduct the tired soul of the weary pilgrim into the presence of God. It is the church which blazes a pathway, through the unseen world, over which the soul of the departed may travel into the atmosphere of the Most High.'"

"So as representatives of this order we bring to you the living principles of friendship, love and truth, these things which assist us in building character. As representatives of the church we bring to you the consolation of the Gospel of the Christ who said, 'My peace I give unto you. Let not your heart be troubled, neither let it be afraid.'"

Music was furnished by a quartet composed of Miss Cora Graham, Mrs. Wallace Brockman, T. H. Rapp and Asa M. Robinson. There were many floral offerings and these were cared for by Miss Laura Brune and Miss Alma Batz.

Interment was in Diamond Grove cemetery. The bearers were: A. H. Williamson, Matthew Wagner, F. M. Brewer, T. H. Rapp, R. J. Burrus and Alfonso Ratcliff.

Those from out of the city in attendance at the funeral were: Charles Pelham, Farmington, La. T. Morgan, Easton, Mrs. Belle Sinnott, Wyoming, Ill., Miss Susie Derr and Mrs. Stevens, Carrollton and William W. Walker, Athens.

DR. NEWELL DWIGHT HILLIS FIGHTS TO CLEAR HIS NAME

New York Pastor Who Bared Heart to Parishioners Wants to Clear Up Financial Tangle.

New York, Oct. 27.—With his congregation standing by him in his hour of need, Dr. Newell Dwight Hillis will today open the fight which he believes will clear his name. The pastor of Henry Ward Beecher's historic Plymouth church in Brooklyn has cleared his conscience by baring his heart from his pulpit, and is now ready to clear up the financial tangle which enmeshed his name. Arguments will be heard today on order requiring the preacher to show cause why he wished to examine before a referee his former business manager, Frank L. Ferguson, concerning lumber deals in British Columbia. Dr. Hillis seeks the examination of Ferguson in order that a sworn statement may be prepared for the pastor's defense in a suit for $50,000 damages brought by the preacher's nephew, Percy D. Hillis.

Ferguson has secured from the court an order for Dr. Hillis's reasons why Ferguson's statement is required. Dr. Hillis has accused Ferguson of untruthfulness, deliberate misrepresentation and charges that Ferguson had "stripped" him of much of the savings of a life. "During the last five years," Ferguson has been using my cash, my bonds and my stock, and during those five years he had almost $100,000 of which I am trying to obtain some financial accounting through the courts, while he is using my money with every possible device that he can buy to postpone the accounting and to destroy my good name before the accounting is rendered by the court."

This statement of Dr. Hillis was prompted by the affidavit of Ferguson, which was equally bitter and denunciatory.

Dr. Hillis' statement were for the purpose of "screening his own present critical financial condition and his own indefensible business methods and dealings for some years before my administration of his affairs. I allege, upon personal knowledge and information in my possession that the plaintiff has resorted to the same unworthy tactics of wrongfully accusing and discrediting others who have been associates, or creditors, by various deliberate and malicious attempts to make scapegoats of them in order to make himself appear free from responsibility for his own financial follies, tropes and failures."

When the plaintiff began his reckless timber speculations in British Columbia in 1906 with a capital of only $3,000 to $5,000, he was widely known throughout the United States and Canada as a preacher, author and lecturer, and therefore had a large circle of acquaintances and friends, whom he knew he could persuade to buy his timber properties on account of their implicit trust and confidence in his representations. Plaintiff sold many timber licenses to ministerial friends, members of his congregation and other friends and acquaintances at prices which realized the plaintiff quick and fabulous net profits."

The affairs of Dr. Hillis were brought before the public last month, when a suit for $50,000 was filed here against the preacher by his nephew, based on interviews which the preacher had given to Oregon newspapers. In the alleged interviews, Dr. Hillis stated he was lecturing and writing to pay off the debts of his nephew, Percy D. Hillis. Young Hillis has denied the truth of the statement.

The following Sunday Dr. Hillis appeared in his pulpit and stood before his congregation to pour out his confession that the pursuit of fortune had made him depart from his own ideals. He told of his endeavors to make provision for his family and to give "certain young men" a start in life, and of investing in property that seemed safe. Then came the panic of 1907, he related, and he awakened suddenly to the discovery that the property was doubtful. Then he set out to protect from loss those who had invested through his influence, and he told his hearers that he is near the completion of paying the losses. A hush fell over the congregation during the recital of his financial troubles, and tense feelings of sympathy held the parishioners spellbound as Dr. Hillis told how his ambitions for wealth had utterly crushed his life and brought him to the brink of poverty.

COURT MARTIAL OF MILITIA CAPTAIN.

Newark, N. J., Oct. 28.—A general court-martial will convene here this afternoon to try Capt. George J. Hattersley, of Company D, Fifth Infantry, of Paterson, on charges of disobedience of orders, growing out of his refusal to answer questions put to him by the brigade examining board unless he were allowed to be represented by counsel. Capt. Hattersley was tried about a year ago on charges that he failed to attend the school of instruction as ordered and had failed to account properly for the military property in his possession. He was acquitted and was restored to his command. Some months he was ordered to appear for examination as to his fitness for duty. He appeared at the session accompanied by a lawyer. The board refused to allow him counsel, on the ground that the proceedings were not a trial and that the Captain was not called upon to defend himself. Thereupon, Capt. Hattersley refused to answer questions, and charges of disobedience of orders followed.

REV. H. F. CUSIC WRITES FROM NEW HOME IN PAWNEE

Pawnee, Ill., Oct. 26.
Editor Journal:
Dear Sir.—We have gotten moved and fairly well settled in our new home. The people of our church have given us a cordial reception and we think we shall like it here very much. Ours is the leading church and we have a modern church and parsonage comparatively new. I have met a few former members from nearby former churches and the fact that Mrs. Cusic's sister and family live here too, all tend to make us feel at home. Mrs. Cusic has stood the ordeal of moving better than we anticipated and we hope she will ultimately regain her health. We often speak of the many friends of Jacksonville and the circuit and will always cherish them in the acquaintance.

The children have fine schools here. They have a very fine township school and splendid new buildings. We miss the morning visits of the Journal and have to depend upon the great city daily. This is a good town and we hope a successful year in the work of the church.

Very respectfully,
H. F. CUSIC.

Friday the Last Day for Service—
Three Terms Beginning in 1916—
Twenty One Couples Seek Divorce.

The November term of the circuit court will convene on Friday, Nov. 8, accordingly today will be the last day of service and docket is practically complete. Five cases were filed Wednesday and five Thursday and three will probably be a number of others today before circuit clerk Pyatt closes his office. The next few days will be very busy in the circuit clerk's office as great deal of work must necessarily be done before the court opens. The number of cases to be heard is about the same as usual and the total business of the Morgan county circuit court does not vary greatly from year to year. By action of the last general assembly provision was made for a third term to be held in February of each year so that in the future the year's business will be divided among three terms instead of two. One notable feature of the present term is the number of divorces as 21 cases have been filed. The docket shows thirty-three continued people cases, seventy-seven chancery continuances and twenty-two common law continuances.

The new cases on the docket up to the closing of the circuit clerk's office Thursday were as follows:

ANTI-SHIPPING ORDINANCE WILL BE USED IN SUPREME COURT

City Takes Action Against Chicago & Alton Railroad Relative to Shipment of Beer.

The city of Jacksonville, by John J. Reeve, city attorney yesterday filed a suit against the Chicago & Alton railroad company for debt in the sum of $100. The suit is an action to test the validity of the anti-shipping ordinance that was passed by the former council some two years ago prohibiting shipment into the city of intoxicating liquors. The case was tried under the former administration and carried to the supreme court and thrown out on some technicality. The city endeavored to have the Chicago & Alton railroad company consent to taking the case up again, but the company would not consent, hence the present suit.

In his declaration City Attorney Reeve sets out that the city of Jacksonville has been local option territory since December, 1907. The fact is also set out that in 1912 the city council of the city passed an ordinance prohibiting the shipment into the city of intoxicating liquors. It is further set out that on September 14, 1915, the Chicago & Alton railroad company delivered to Perry J. White a case of beer from the Meyer Brewing company of Bloomington, the city of Bloomington at the time being, and now is, local option territory. The city asks for the sum of $50 under the ordinance for the shipping into the city of the case of beer and $50 for the delivery of the same, making the total amount asked $100.

James Mahon by his attorney M. T. Layman has filed a suit in assumpsit against the Chicago & Alton railroad company. Only the practice has been filed.

James B. Sickles Saddlery company, by its attorneys, Bellatti, Bellatti & Moriarty has filed suit in assumpsit against Ernest R. Strawn.

INQUEST HELD OVER BODY OF R. E. PELHAM.

Coroner Wright Hears Testimony in Case.

Owing to the circumstances surrounding the death of R. E. Pelham it was thought best by Coroner George W. Wright to hold an inquest. A jury was empaneled which after viewing the remains adjourned to the residence of W. T. Fanning on East North street, where the inquest was held.

The only witnesses examined were Dr. W. P. Duncan, Mr. Pelham's family physician, and Mrs. Edna Pelham and Mabelle Pelham Moore. Dr. Duncan testified that Mr. Pelham had been under his care since 1910 and had been suffering from chronic arteriosclerosis. It was Dr. Duncan's opinion that death was caused by acute dilation of the heart with chronic arteriosclerosis as a secondary cause. Mrs. Pelham and her daughter testified about going to Mr. Pelham's room and trying to awaken him and finding him dead. After hearing the evidence the jury returned a verdict in accordance with the testimony as given. The jury was composed of the following: W. T. Fanning, foreman; C. W. Simms, William Hurst, W. T. Fling, Joseph Bauman and J. W. Priest, clerk.

ORGANIZATION WORK PROGRESSING FOR ROUTE OF "THE BETTER WAY"

Directors for Alexander District Selected at Meeting Thursday Night—Prentice Section Will Organize Monday Evening.

Work in the organization of "The Better Way" route from St. Louis to Peoria is progressing satisfactorily. Scottville and some southern sections have completed organizations and Thursday night directors were chosen for the Alexander section of the trail. Highway commissioners are ex officio members and two others are elected by the farmers along the way, completing a board of five. The Alexander section of the route will thus be in charge of Frank J. Kaiser, K. V. Beerup, elected at a meeting at the Alexander school house, John Snyder, Chas. Magill and L. B. Trotter. John Votsmler and John Snyder were recently elected president and secretary, respectively, of the Better Way association.

The name "Better Way" has been filed with the secretary of state and exclusive use of the term applied for. A red band bordered by two bands of orange will be the official colors of the trail.

At present it is planned to pursue the work of organization northward and to this end a meeting will be held Monday evening in the town hall at Prentice. Interest in the new way began a few weeks since at Franklin when the Burlington way division was routed through Palmyra to Springfield, has been increasing and the growth of the new trail will be watched with interest.

McCARTY FARMERS ELEVATOR WILL ORGANIZE AT MEETING

Capital Stock of $7,000 Has Been Subscribed—New Company Organized at Pisgah.

A meeting of commissioners of the McCarty Farmers Elevator company was held recently at which it was decided to hold a meeting of the subscribers for shares at the Walnut Grove (Dublin) schoolhouse on Friday, Nov. 5th, at 2 p. m., for the purpose of effecting a permanent organization, at which nine directors are to be elected who will choose the other officers, says the Franklin Times.

Thomas Cain, manager of the Arnold Farmers Elevator company, and deputy of the state farmers' elevator association and the president and secretary of the state association have been invited to attend.

The total capital stock of $7,000 has been subscribed and will be distributed among about 75 farmers residing northeast of town. Other farmers' elevator companies in the country are operating successfully, and considering the territory in which it will operate and the business ability of the men promoting this latest addition to the number, no reason offers why it should not always prove profitable for all interested.

The five commissioners who secured the subscriptions for stock are James Kenny, J. B. Sears, Felix Shanle, Frank Eck and Daniel Gorman. They had a difficult task before them, but handled it intelligently and the successful outcome is to their credit. The fact that they were able to secure the subscriptions of so many leading farmers and business and professional men is ample evidence that the public has confidence in the proposition and the men behind it.

New Company at Pisgah.

The greater part of the $8,000 for capital stock has been subscribed, an option on a building site has been secured and the Pisgah Grain Elevator company stands almost ready to begin the building of a new elevator at the north side of the track at Pisgah station. Thursday articles of preliminary incorporation were issued by the secretary of state to W. H. Mosely, J. E. Curry, Ernest Heintz, W. E. Barrows and R. B. Oxley. Mr. Oxley was chosen temporary president and Charles Caldwell is acting as clerk.

Pisgah already has an elevator and it may be that the present building will be purchased by the new co-operative company. If no deal is made, the commissioners announce their readiness to build. In the building plans, sufficient room is called for to give space for coal and lumber storage, as well as for grain.
